International Pentecostal–Anglican Commission (IPAC)

Third Annual Meeting in South Africa, 8 - 13 June 2024

The third annual meeting of the International Pentecostal–Anglican Commission (IPAC) took place at Shikwaru Lodge, near Mokopane, South Africa, between 8 and 14 June 2024. The Commission continues, as a result of decisions by the Anglican Consultative Council and the Pentecostal World Fellowship (PWF), to explore ecumenical dialogue together. The Commission heard stories and examples of the relationship between Anglicans and Pentecostals in different parts of the world. The meeting was hosted by the Pentecostal World Fellowship. The Commission enjoyed morning and evening prayer, led alternately by members of each team.

The Commission heard papers working towards a common statement on holiness, sacramentality and renewal in both traditions. In particular, the focus was on theological education, ministerial formation, discipleship and holiness. The papers presented will contribute to the final report of the dialogue in 2026. Working groups were set up to prepare for the next meeting.

The Commission is grateful to the staff of Shikwaru Lodge for their hospitality during the week. It attended Celebration Church in Mokopane on Sunday morning. The meeting concluded with a visit to the Apartheid Museum in Johannesburg.

The Commission will next meet in June 2025, hosted by the Anglican Communion.
